Report

Two days Workshop "Vue.js"

Resource person Shri. Ashish Zingade, Senior Software Engineer, Dynatrace Company, U.S.A. He delivered Vue (pronounced like view) is a JavaScript framework for building user interfaces. It builds on top of standard HTML, CSS, and JavaScript and provides a declarative, component-based programming model that helps you efficiently develop user interfaces of any complexity.

Vue is a framework and ecosystem that covers most of the common features needed in frontend development. But the web is extremely diverse - the things we build on the web may vary drastically in form and scale. With that in mind, Vue is designed to be flexible and incrementally adoptable.

Vue can be used in different ways:

- Enhancing static HTML without a build step
- Embedding as Web Components on any page
- Single-Page Application (SPA)
- Fullstack / Server-Side Rendering (SSR)
- Jamstack / Static Site Generation (SSG)
- Targeting desktop, mobile, WebGL, and even the terminal

President of the function Smt. V.N. Vanakudare HOD Physics and Student Welfare Officer told the importance of this workshop to the students making them analyse it should be implemented in their academics also by developing an application that creates an ease in understanding the trending technologies used now-a-days.

Shri. Praveen S. Akkimaradi HOD Computer Science conveyed Vote of Thanks. Smt. Naina J. Kalyanshetti showed her gracious presence with her team members in organizing the function in a fruitful way. Smt. Shubhalaxmi M. D. compered the function.
