

State of the art equipments, a fine blend of experience and new blood in teaching are the hall-mark of the department. It was the first department to get UGC grants for modernization of its labs. Consistent performance in the university examinations by its students make the department highly sought after department. The research interests of staff are varied; they include dielectric studies, antenna studies, radiation physics, thin films and theoretical simulation of solar cells.